Sudan Preachers Persecuted

Last December, two evangelical preachers from the Church of Christ in Sudan were taken from their churches and thrown into jail. Last month, Abdulraheem Kodi and Kuwa Shamal Abu Zumam were charged with numerous offenses, including waging war against the state, espionage and undermining Sudan's constitutional system. They are Nuba people—indigenous groups who do not fit the regime's vision of an Islamic nation and are accused of supporting anti-government rebels.

Their trial has begun. They could get the death penalty if they're found guilty.

Please pray for our brothers.
